Road funds boosted; no tax change

State Representative Everett G. Steele (R-Glen Carbon) is "extremely pleased" with the new road program enacted during a special session of the legislature in Springfield. It will mean many more dollars for Downstate roads, without a Downstate tax increase, he stressed today.

"For the local metropolitan area," Steele said, "the program means that approximately $150 million will be spent on roads during the coming year, instead of the $30 million originally slated."

"Our Highway District No. 8, which serves a 10-county region, will gain more for road construction and maintenance under the new program than practically any other highway district in the state."

"As a member of the House Transportation Committee, I have argued against a gasoline tax increase," Steele said. "Instead, I have argued legislation to earmark all sales tax revenues on gasoline sales for road purposes, rather than going into the general revenue."

"This proposal has now been included as a key element of the new Gov. Thompson road program, whereby 5.5 percent of all sales taxes received—which is equal to the sales taxes on gasoline—will be used for road purposes."

"Henceforth, approximately $130 million yearly will be 'pumped into' the road program, through the earmarking of these funds. When matched with federal highway funds, this brings approximately 400 million new highway dollars to our road program."

"The motorists of our state have a right to expect that all the taxes they pay for fuel be used for road purposes."

"Illinois highways have suffered under the severe winters of the past several years. Now a satisfactory solution has been worked out to meet the critical road needs of our region and state, without a tax increase."

The program—adopted Thursday following a marathon House session the night before—calls for a sales tax increase in the six northeastern Illinois counties and a bond issue for roads and bridges.

FOOD PROGRAM RENEWED. Raymond Watson, sales manager for Prairie Farms Dairy, 1800 Adams St., seated at center, signs a contract Friday in the offices of Coordinated Youth Services, Delmar and Niedringhaus avenues. The contract renews for one year the CYS-sponsored WIC program for pregnant women (W), infants (I) and children (C) under five years old in qualifying families. Food products delivered to the more than 3,000 participants of the program in Madison County include infant formula, milk, cereal,

Seek bus funding

Announcement was made today of a committee to support bus transit for Madison County. James Fritz, 2540 Angela Drive, Granite City, is the chairman of the group.

A. Bruce Hopke, 27 Snowbird Lane, Granite City, was named secretary. The group adopted the name of Madison County Committee for Bus Transit.

It was formed in response to concern that bus service in Madison County is to be drastically reduced next year by Bi-State Development Agency if appropriations from the Illinois legislature for local area bus service are reduced from $8,000,000 to $3,000,000 next July 1.

This area is the only metropolitan area in Illinois that does not raise local funds for bus transit to match funds appropriated by the legislature, Fritz said.

Local legislators have stressed that this is the last year that legislators from other areas of Illinois will go along with such special treatment.

The legislation for this year's appropriation was written with provisions to slash funding in the future, if local matching funds are not appropriated before July 1980.

Fritz said the Madison County committee is circulating petitions asking the Madison County Board to pass ordinances to meet the legislature's demand for local participation in supporting the bus system. He said a comparable effort by concerned residents of St. Clair County would be welcome.

He said persons interested in supporting the petition drive may call the committee's secretary, Bruce Hopke, at 797-0721.

Fritz commented, "Bi-State spokesmen say that a drastic fund cutback would virtually destroy their bus system operations in the Illinois portion of the metropolitan area."

"It would be an unfortunate step backward in Madison and St. Clair counties."

Venue change sought

A change of venue is sought in petitions being circulated in Madison County regarding a second trial of Jerry Lee McCabe, a family member said Friday.

Widespread public awareness of the original trial was noted in the decision to seek a different geographic area for the new trial.

He was convicted of rape and armed violence, with a 20-year sentence imposed, in a Circuit Court trial. The Appellate Court overturned the verdict and remanded the case for a new trial.

Relatives and friends have stressed their belief in his innocence, and have said a more thorough investigation could spotlight weaknesses in the evidence and identify others as responsible. They have called for a reopening of the investigation. The assault occurred in February 1978 in the Quad-Cities.

Concern over mail restraints

MISLABELED PICKUP SCHEDULE on a mail box at the Henry Ross building, Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center has caused problems for merchants. Pickups were listed at 12:40 p.m. and 5:40 p.m., when in reality the last pickup was 4:30 p.m. Reduction in Granite City-to-Granite City mail service has caused concern by many local businessmen. The pickup schedule on this box was changed late Thursday by post office officials who said the error was typographical.

(Press-Record Photo by Mick Strange)

By MICK STRANGE of the Press-Record
Granite City-to-Granite City mail service is being hampered by the area mail processing system which was designed to speed up and improve the mail service.

The problem could be solved for $16 a day, the approximate cost of a postal worker spending an hour and a half working local mail.

Prior to the new system, a resident could take a local letter to anyone of the three local mail boxes around the post office by 6 a.m. in the morning and it would be delivered that day.

Under the present area mail processing system, a local letter to be delivered the next day in Granite City must be mailed at the post office by 6:15 p.m. the day before.

For example, a letter mailed at 7 p.m. on a Monday at the post office would not be delivered until Wednesday, as the letter would go to St. Louis for a Tuesday postmark and then be returned to Granite City for a Wednesday delivery.

Arthur Laurence, officer-in-charge of the GC post office, said, "There are times, rules and regulations you must follow. Only about 500 pieces of mail a day are affected by the change compared to 124,800 pieces a day we average."

"According to samples taken, 98 percent of the mail handled by the Gateway District Area Mail Processing Center has next-day delivery," he said.

"You have to sacrifice a little to gain 1,000 fold. It may have an adverse effect on some but it helps many others. We are trying to give the greatest amount of service for the least amount of cost," Laurence maintained.

Laurence said to go back to the system where a mail would process local mail here would cost about $16 a day, as it would take a postal worker an hour and a half.

Under the new system, several local mail boxes have been eliminated. "There are certain boxes in residential neighborhoods that just do not have enough mail to warrant mail pickups and we are eliminating them. The shopping centers are where the heavy mail pickups are, as well as in the downtown area," Laurence said.

One local business man whose offices are in the Henry Ross building at Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center complained about a mislabeled box.

This particular mail box was labeled for pickups at 12:40 p.m. and 5:40 p.m. daily, except Sundays and holidays.

Actually, the last mail pick up at that particular box was 4:30 p.m. for several weeks.

According to postal authorities, the error was typographical and has since been corrected.

Laurence said a route inspection will be made in the Granite City area in about two weeks by outside inspectors.

The route inspectors will check the times posted on all mail boxes to see that the proper times are on the boxes.

Laurence said persons should pay particular attention to the times posted for the best possible delivery.

Laurence further said more improvements are coming.

Where there is a five-digit zip code that helps speed the mail, a new nine-digit zip code is coming.

The nine-digit number will allow the automatic sorters in the area processing system in St. Louis to break down the mail to the exact mail route within Granite City as well as other cities.

Laurence is the postmaster of East Alton Post Office which has about 16 employees. He has been the officer-in-charge of the 99-plus employee Granite City post office since April 25 while a new postmaster is being selected.

Laurence estimated a postmaster for GC will be selected within 30 to 60 days. One business man said, "We used to have a lot of pride in our country and our postal services. You used to feel the mail would go through regardless. It seems that, on a local level at least, service is getting worse."

Normal classes; continue efforts on pay formula

Classes began in the Granite City School District on Friday for a half-day, and a full-day class schedule is proceeding normally today. Preparation of a specific new salary formula for teachers is continuing.

With a tentative agreement reached Sept. 5 on the total amount of money to be provided this year and next year, the remaining task involves devising a mutually agreeable salary schedule within that framework.

While no final agreement has yet been achieved, progress is being made and ratification of a pay schedule is likely to be considered this week, it was indicated. No meeting timetable has been set.

Teachers reviewed the tentative settlement in detail during meetings Wednesday and Thursday nights and agreed to start the 1979-80 term

Mental health money cutback

The 1979-80 budget of the Quad-City Mental Health Clinic in Granite City has been cut $16,318 below the clinic's budget request in new appropriations approved by the Madison County 708 Board, it was learned Friday.

At the same time, the 708 Board which determines the appropriations for ten divisions of clinical aid in the county, trimmed the requested budget of the Alton Mental Health Clinic by $74,850.

The board's total budget for all county operations has been set at $875,002, including $178,469 for Granite City's mental health clinic against a requested budget of $194,787.

The new budget, which is subject to approval by the County Board, is expected to be reviewed in a regular meeting of the 708 Board at 7:30 tonight in the County Board meeting room at the courthouse in Edwardsville.

In its budget listings, the 708 Board noted the Granite City clinic appropriation was based on actual allotment of $617,000 during the past year, while the Alton clinic expenses amounted to $170,000.

The Granite City clinic budget, it was noted, includes $9,960 in Title XX federal funds, while the Alton allocation does not include $12,000 in Title XX funds.

The 708 Board has set a new budget of $205,400 for Specialized Services, Inc., against a request of $234,471 and last year expenditures of $192,000.

For the Madison County Association for Retarded Citizens, a new budget of $99,560 has been set. That group

CATARACTS

Once a dreaded diagnosis, there is now no need for fear. Recent developments in both medical treatment and surgery have reduced the seriousness of the problem, if caught in time. Some problems can be treated with drops so that surgery is not always indicated. Common to almost all types of cataracts is a blurring or dimming of vision. If it persists, see your ophthalmologist. If he gives you a prescription, bring it to us for immediate filling. Your sight is important.

Hearing Thursday on county zoning changes

A public hearing on proposed changes in the Madison County Zoning Ordinance will be held in the County Board room at the Courthouse in Edwardsville Thursday morning in another step to update flood control regulations for future building activities.

The hearing, which will be held at 9:30 a.m., will be held to gain public input and comment on changes in drainage requirements for flood insurance coverage.

Paul Hawkins, inspector of the county's zoning department, said proposed new regulations will involve control of mobile home locations in various parts of the unincorporated area. Among changes in current regulations will be one requiring mobile home tenants to sign a waiver agreeing to move their homes upon orders of zoning and drainage control officials in the event flooding conditions are threatened in any particular area.

The changes are required to permit the county to retain its flood insurance program, Hawkins said.

Among revisions of the ordinance will be one pertaining to construction of closed fences for privacy reasons.

A 10-year-old girl and her 8-year-old brother, delivering the Press-Record at 3:35 p.m. Thursday, were threatened by a youth who stole $3 in change from their collection receipts.

Police said the strong-arming occurred when a youth, between 13 and 16 years old, approached the children in the 2600 block of Hodges Avenue and said he wanted the paper money as he was collecting it for "Mr."

The children refused to give him the money and the youth doubled up his fist and threatened to strike the girl.

At that point they handed him $3 in change and the thief fled on foot north on Kate Street.

The family of a suspect was contacted and a brother brought the youth to police headquarters at 4:25 p.m. Thursday. He was turned over to the juvenile officer.

All legislators from the 56th Illinois Legislative District voted affirmatively.

The developments were called a victory for Gov. James R. Thompson, but he voiced worry over the possibility of an override Oct. 3 of his veto of a bill eliminating the five percent sales tax on food and drugs.

Some Democrats say there is a sufficient cash reserve to end the sales tax, while the Republican chief executive says this would wreck the state's ability to finance needed state and local governmental services.

"Many senior citizens, shoppers, commuters and ordinary residents without automobiles would have serious problems."

"In view of chronic fuel shortages and the continuing rise in the cost of gasoline and of personal auto, we should be improving and expanding our public transportation."

Fred Dalton, vice-chairman of the Madison County Board, said last week he doubts that the board will play a role in BI-State's efforts to raise $1 million in local funds to help keep buses running. He cited widespread public opposition to new taxation.

Similar sentiments were voiced by St. Clair County Board Chairman Victor Canby.

Normal classes

effective Friday morning, the third attempted starting day.

The Board of Education met Friday evening and is slated to meet again at 6:30 tonight.

Discussions between portions of the negotiating teams of the school district and Teachers' Federation Local 743 took place Friday and from 2 to 8 p.m. Saturday, and there also were contacts yesterday.

No major problems have been reported, but the work of applying the tentative settlement to a precise schedule is described as complicated.

Speakers have not been announced, a St. Louis publication quoted Board Member David Partney as saying a raise of more than ten percent is involved.

With 630 teachers affected, the parties are in the process of deciding basic salary figures for those with varying years of teaching experience and also differing educational credits.

Harold Hillmer, a school district negotiator, was quoted Friday as saying 35 percent of faculty members are at the top of the schedule and that "obviously, there have to be more dollars put at the top of the scale. The problem is working out a system equitable for all personnel."

President Shirley Stoll of Local 743 said teachers began classes "to show their good faith. Both sides are anxious to get this worked out, and we know the lump sum for raises will not change."

90% of steel capacity in use

Domestic raw steel production continued to outpace its 1978 performance in July, the American Iron and Steel Institute reports. Steel mills in this country poured 11,821,000 tons of raw steel during the month. That was nearly half a million tons more than the 11,388,000 tons of output in July of last year, but down from June 1979's 12,230,000 ton total. Since the end of July, the production trend has backed away somewhat from the July level.

Through the first seven months of this year, production reached 83,261,000 — up more than five million tons from the comparable period of 1978. July's capability utilization rate was 89.9 percent, compared to a rate of 85.1 percent for the same month of last year. For the first seven months of this year, the rate stood at 91.1 percent, compared to a rate of 85.3 percent for the same period of 1978.

Of the raw steel produced in July of this year, 7,326,000 tons came from basic oxygen furnaces, 2,688,000 tons from electric furnaces, and 1,806,000 tons from open hearth furnaces.

Through the first seven months of this year, BOF output reached 51,018,000 tons, electric furnace production was 20,126,000 tons, while open hearths made 12,117,000 tons. During July, 1,897,000 ton of raw steel were strand and pressure cast (produced through continuous casting processes), bringing the total for the first seven months of this year to 13,389,000 tons.

Illinois technique avoids spleen removal surgery

Physicians at the University of Illinois have successfully modified a technique that avoids surgical removal of the spleen from some patients with hypersplenism (overactive spleens).

Called partial splenic embolization, the technique involves obstructing a number of the branches of the artery supplying blood to the spleen.

"That section of the spleen to which we have cut off the blood supply no longer functions, but the remaining area of the spleen is able to continue its activity," said Dimitrios B. Spigos, M.D., associate professor of radiology and chief of angiography and special procedures in the Department of Medical Radiology, University of Illinois College of Medicine.

Dr. Spigos has been working on partial splenic embolization for the past three years.

Using the technique, he has successfully treated 20 patients with spleen disorders, making the Chicago campus one of only two centers in the world where splenic embolization is performed. The other center is the University of Lund, Sweden, where the technique is performed by Dr. A. Lunderquist.

"The spleen has important and, at times, critical functions and its surgical removal (splenectomy) is not to be taken lightly," Dr. Spigos says in a research article.

"It is known that the spleen serves as a biological filter for the clearance of bacteria and also is essential for rapid antibody production. In other words, the spleen protects the body from bacterial infection."

Patients who do undergo splenectomies must often remain on penicillin for the rest of their lives. "The big advantage of partial splenic embolization," Dr. Spigos explained, "is that we (physicians) can decide how much of the spleen's activity—30, 50, maybe 80 percent—to remove while allowing the rest of the organ to carry on normal activity."

Co-investigators with Dr. Spigos in the project have been Olga Jonasson, M.D., clinical professor of surgery and chief of the Department of Surgery at Cook County Hospital, Chicago; Martin F. Mozes, chief of the Division of Transplant Surgery, Department of Surgery; and Walter S. Tan, M.D., assistant professor of medical radiology.

Specifically, embolization involves inserting a small catheter (tube) into the splenic artery and passing small particles of an absorbable gelatin sponge called Gelfoam through the catheter into the splenic artery branches.

According to Dr. Spigos, the Gelfoam particles serve as plugs to block the blood supply.

"Depending on the size of a patient's spleen and the amount of embolization that must be done, we use from 10 to 40 pieces of Gelfoam," he said. "Each piece is approximately one-by-one millimeter in size."

The procedure takes from two to six hours per patient, with the average being three hours.

Dr. Spigos is continuing his research on the technique in an effort to develop new embolic (occluding) agents.

"I am currently working on dogs to determine whether materials other than Gelfoam, such as chemicals, might be even more effective in plugging the splenic artery branches," he said.

Splenic embolization had been attempted sporadically by other physicians before Dr. Spigos, but "up to 1976, the technique was considered an outcast," he explained.

In the past, the entire spleen would be embolized and patients would develop serious and grave complications such as spleen abscess, rupture of the spleen, pneumonia and septicemia (overwhelming bacterial infection).

"To achieve success with embolization, Dr. Spigos introduced several modifications.

"First, instead of embolizing the entire spleen, we start with partial embolization, leaving part of the spleen intact to continue its functions," he said.

"Secondly, we use antibiotics because embolized patients in the past developed infections. Also, on days we do an embolization, we keep the environment superclean."

Thirdly, we have introduced effective control of pain through use of an epidural lock (anesthetic injected into the spine to deaden a patient's sensory nerves coming from the spleen).

"Lastly, we have combined our technique with careful postembolization care of the patient," he added.

In an article, "Partial Splenic Embolization in the Treatment of Hypersplenism," which he co-authored with Dr. Jonasson, Dr. Mozes and Vlastimil Capek, M.D., professor and head of the Department of Medical Radiology, University of Illinois at the Medical Center, Dr. Spigos states that "in addition to the expected immunologic advantages, partial embolization might prevent development of splenic abscesses by preservation of the normal direction of the blood flow through the splenic circulation.

"In total splenic amputation, the arterial flow of the spleen is completely interrupted and the direction of the flow in the splenic vein is reversed."

Hypersplenism is characterized by an abnormal increase in the destructive functions of the spleen, resulting in a deficiency of blood elements such as platelets and white blood cells. In addition, the spleen usually becomes enlarged.

The disorder is due to a variety of causes. In primary hypersplenism, the spleen itself malfunctions and becomes too active.

In secondary hypersplenism, the spleen is affected to disorders such as cirrhosis of the liver and portal hypertension; hematological diseases like thalassemia; and malignancies, including chronic leukemia and myelofibrosis.

Not all patients with hypersplenism are candidates for partial embolization, Dr. Spigos explained. "There are many anatomical variables to consider."

"For example, sometimes a patient's spleen compresses the artery, making it difficult to insert a catheter. In other cases, the splenic artery makes so many curves and twists we are unable to pass a catheter through it."

Being only one of two locations in the world where partial splenic embolizations are done, the University of Illinois at the Medical Center recently established a cooperative project with the Thalassemia Research Center in Athens, Greece, and General State Hospital in Piraeus, Greece.

Under the program, patients with hypersplenism due to thalassemia major will be sent from Greece to the University of Illinois Hospital for splenic embolizations.

Thoughts on man's work

I want to know who decided what was man's work and what was woman's. If there is indeed a set of rules, I've never heard anything about it.

I was telling a friend about the body work I was doing on my Chevy. "That's man's work," my friend told me. "Sorry, I didn't know," I said.

I began to worry and I've been in a state ever since. How many of the rules have I broken over the years? How many times have I done "man's work?"

I have never been one to shirk the work that must be done to keep my home's mechanics in good working order. But was I wrong, did I break the rules when I cleaned the furnace last summer? If I hadn't, the board of health would have been knocking at my door.

It would appear, according to my sources, that it's all right for me to get down on my hands and knees and scrub the floor, but moving furniture is a no. How do I scrub underneath the washing machine?

Since I have discovered the rule about working on cars, I have been most distressed. I have made arrangements to hide the car so that I can finish the body work without getting caught. I wonder what the penalty for that is?

I can hear the judge now. "Thirty years, darned socks." What a horrible fate. I'd much rather be shot.

I was brought up in a family that believed if you want something done right, do it yourself. Nobody ever told me—that as a member of the female gender I could not get on a 40 foot ladder and paint a house.

Far be it from me to sound unadlylike, but I can paint a house, trim a tree, or panel a wall with the best of them, male or female. I have been ignorant to the facts, or so I am told.

Rule number one for women has been (apparently for a long time) to be, or appear to be, completely helpless in certain areas. I am guilty. I break that one every day. The only time I am helpless is when lifting an object over 100 pounds is required. Another 30 years with the socks.

I suppose I will have to change my ways before I am caught being so independent. I'll just some judge somewhere keep me up to my ears in torn footgear for the rest of my days.

What a horrible thought!

Bus system sales tax here rejected

Alton Telegraph — A proposal to impose a one-cent sales tax in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties to pay for the Bi-State Transit System was one of dozens of unsuccessful amendments offered on the Illinois House floor last week.

It was just one of approximately 50 amendments offered as the House remained in session until the wee hours of Thursday after a conflict of Chicago and Downstate representatives backed the latest transportation funding package.

The amendment related to Bi-State was introduced by Rep. William Walsh, R-LaGrange Park, who said if the state wasn't going to subsidize the Chicago Transit Authority anymore and impose a new one-cent sales tax in Cook County, it should do the same in the bi-state area.

Only 55 did, however, with 81 opposed, as a coalition held to resist any changes in the basic transportation package.

Most of the other amendments defeated related directly to the Regional Transportation Authority or the CTA.

All local area House members voted in favor of the package.

Later, another amendment was introduced to eliminate only the new sales tax to be imposed in the Regional Transit Authority region of food and medicine.

With some members charging the Democratic leadership had deliberately held up printing of the amendment, there was a lengthy debate over whether it could be considered since it had not been actually distributed (though other amendments filed later had been).

A vote to table that amendment finally was taken but then it was reported the electronic voting machine wasn't working, which only led to more suspicious mutterings.

The House, at 1:15 a.m., finally voted to recess until 10 a.m. and then resume consideration of amendments still on file. They were on amendment 49 of 58 at the time of the recess.

Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton, had been shown as splitting from the usual coalition on the vote on the last sales tax related measure.

An amendment which would have put House Democrats in an awkward position was offered by Rep. Donald Deuster, R-Mundelein.

It would have phased out the sales tax on food and drugs and was identical to a bill pushed through by Democrats and vetoed by Gov. James Thompson earlier this summer.

The House parliamentarian, though, ruled the amendment was improper and a vote to override the ruling failed.

Prior to the House floor action, several hundred labor union members who work on highways packed the Capitol and buttonholed legislators, asking them to pass the increased transportation funding.

Over 100 Madison and St. Clair county labor union members were in the delegation, union officials said.

A time of refreshments and fellowship will follow the evening service at Suburban. The public is being invited to the services.

Still time to fight walnut caterpillar

By WAYNE SIEFERT
Area Horticulture Adviser

It's not too late to begin a control program for walnut caterpillar. A one-shot program of spraying each colony with carbaryl is still effective. Carefully spray the surrounding foliage as well as the web.

Walnut caterpillars frequently move down to the lower limbs or trunk to loosen their skin. If colonies in your trees are too high to spray, you can watch for this migration.

Carbaryl or acephate (Orthene) will control these larvae. A little extra spray on the limbs will help build up a residue.

Lawn treatment for grub control will help you get revenge. The grown caterpillars burrow in the ground to pupate. Soil treatment beneath the limbs will prevent their maturing.

One loophole in this idea is the worms on neighboring trees. Next spring, the moths can fly over to your tree and lay eggs in spite of your treatment.

Other trees attacked by walnut caterpillar include butternut, hickory, oak, honey locust and willow.

HOUSE RANSACKED

The home of Barbara Ingram, 1521 Second St., Madison, was burglarized and ransacked last week. Among the items taken were two green pillows, numerous winter coats, two steel stoves, assorted costume jewelry and two glass tables.

High home mortgage rates seen continuing

Home mortgage interest rates will average about 10 1/2 percent for the next three years because of credit tightening caused this month by the Federal Reserve Board, Dr. Jack Carlson, executive vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Realtors, says in his monthly outlook on the economy and real estate.

"The government's actions to fight inflation are too late and too little and may create needless job and income loss," Carlson said. He added that consumer price increases are likely to exceed 10 percent during each of the next two years.

The recessionary decline in output, which started last spring, will likely extend through winter, he said, and be accompanied by rising unemployment. That probably will remain above seven percent in both 1980 and 1981.

Real consumer spending declined in the spring but should improve by Christmas, Carlson said.

The picture is not all bleak, the economist added, and, in spite of a 60 percent increase in the price of crude oil imports, exports of goods and services to other countries will likely grow more rapidly and help create jobs in this country.

Home sales remain strong despite escalating prices and record high mortgage interest rates. Existing home sales were at a 3.7 million unit annual rate during the first half of 1979.

The sales of existing homes can be expected to slow to a 3.6 million annual rate toward the end of the year, making 1979 the second best year for housing sales, Carlson said. Existing home sales in 1978 were 3.9 million units.

He also said construction of new housing units has slowed 15 percent from last year and may slip as much as 25 percent before returning to nearly 2 million starts by the end of 1980.

"Housing production has suffered only a moderate decline because demand for housing remained strong," Carlson says in his monthly outlook on the economy and real estate.

The National Association of Realtors is a membership association of about 700,000 individuals involved in all phases of the real estate industry.

WALLET STOLEN

Mable Wiggins of the 2900 block of Edwards Street told police someone had removed her wallet from her purse in her home last week. She said she was in the rear yard of her home and girl approached her and talked to her until two boys came through the rear yards and she left with them. She then discovered the wallet was gone. The front door had been unlocked and open while she was in the back yard. The wallet contained $15 cash and personal papers.

Enormity misused

By GARRY N. MURPHY
SUE Department of English

A reader reports having come across "enormity" being used to mean "imminence."

Sad to say, this misuse has gained ground in recent years, to the point where one of the better dictionaries lists it, without comment, as a possible meaning.

NITICH (Not If I Can Help It).

For me, "enormity" will continue to mean "enormous evil."

I might refer to the "imminence" or "enormousness" of a whale, but not to its "enormity." On the other hand, I might refer to the "enormity" of, not the "imminence" of, rape.

Another reader writes: "I heard a term, certainly new to me, on TV and wonder if it isn't simply one more invented word, similar to those you recently wrote about. The word is "forensicator."

A connoisseur it is—and a rather fancy one, at that. It involves converting the original adjective "forensic" (having to do with public or legal debate) into a verb, "forensicate," and then converting the verb into an agent-noun, "forensicator."

Unless the word is clearly used for comic effect, it will, as the reader suggests, "sound ominously obscene."

For instance: "Not only is my opponent a proven heterosexual, but he is also an openly avowed, unregenerate, practicing forensicator!"

State balance again exceeds $500 million

The state ended the month of August with $544 million in the general funds, the second straight month the "available balance" has topped the half-billion dollar mark.

Comptroller Roland W. Burris said last week that the end-of-August figure was the second highest month-end balance in the history of the general funds and only the fourth time the state has ever ended a month with more than one-half billion dollars in the general funds.

The highest was July 31, 1979, when the balance reached $552 million.

To put the end-of-August figure in further perspective, it was $297 million higher, or 2.2 times the balance of $247 million one year ago (August 1978) and $154 million higher than the balance of $390 million just two months ago on June 30, Burris said.

The Explorers, sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110, received pledges totaling $8,425 during five short membership breaks on Sunday, Aug. 19, which is

Hooks. Back row, Vince D'Neal, David Mooshagian, Leo Tormini, Kerry Greer, David Walker, Joseph Anselmo and John Bargiel. The Explorers again will assist Channel 9 in the October membership drive by manning the telephones on Thursday, Oct. 11.

Confer on testing of students

Should Illinois adopt a mandatory statewide minimal competency testing (MCT) program for students?

This and other issues, confronting education now and in the future will be up for discussion at the second annual superintendent's conference in Peoria on Wednesday. The conference will be held in the Peoria Hilton.

More than 650 school administrators have registered to attend the conference, sponsored by the Illinois State Board of Education.

North Carolina Superintendent A. Craig Phillips, chief executive officer in a state which has mandated testing, will deliver the keynote address at 9:30 a.m. Phillips is president of the Council of Chief State School Officers, will speak on "Creative Leadership and Competency Testing."

State Suplt. of Education, Joseph M. Cronin will moderate a panel discussion on "Minimal Competency Testing in Illinois — State and Local Prospects and Issues" at 10 a.m.

Small group discussions, involving local educators, state legislators, executive officials and staffs, will be held throughout the day on MCT and other education issues, including:

School finance and the state aid formula.

Curriculum, personnel, property tax — what happened and what will be needed.

Student transportation. And the Educational Service Region study.

Illinois Senate President Philip Rock (D-Oak Park) will be the luncheon speaker.

Data classes to expand

The Madison Board of Education at its Thursday night meeting voted to purchase a new Burroughs B-80 System for $23,306 to replace the present 10-year-old Burroughs bookkeeping system.

The purchase is being made directly from the Burroughs Company and will allow the present accounting functions to be done, and at the same time will enable the district to expand vocational training in data processing classes.

Two office personnel will go to a special training school for a week to learn to operate the additional functions of the new equipment.

The training school will cost $110 per day. There also is a delivery and yearly maintenance cost, which brings the entire package to $28,907.

The board has been investigating and discussing purchase of the new B-80 system for the past six months due to the age of the present accounting machine and the multiple functions of the advanced machine.

Wade James, assistant superintendent of Madison schools, told the board that the data processing classes which the machine will enable MHS to have will assemble at the board office, but that he sees no problem in that the classes will be small.

James also informed the board that part of the monies to pay for the new machine he felt could come from special government grants since it would be used partially for student training.

The computer system will also allow faster and more accurate registration of students.

The board approved a yearly increase for teachers aides with 30 hours of college credit of $450 and clerical personnel, $250.

The board voted unanimously to reject the minutes of the regular Aug. 16 meeting.

Board Member Billy Bosworth noted that the minutes indicated a report from the First National Bank was approved.

It was noted that the minutes were in error as the bank report was not read nor did board members receive a copy as the minutes indicated.

Superintendent John Palchiff said the minutes would be corrected and the reason no copies were made as the copy machine was broke.

"I think Mrs. Bosworth has a valid point. The minutes of the meeting should reflect more accurately what actually takes place at the meeting," Elvers Johnson, board member, said. A discussion on the work being done at the new middle school was held. A question as to whether the roof over the gym and cafeteria was completed as indicated by the contractors was raised.

Eldon Rhoads, maintenance supervisor and Palchiff were to inspect the roof on Friday and also to check with the architect.

The question of the cost of the Head Start program operated by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) was raised.

The board approved the use of the three empty class rooms in the Dunbar building and expenses to be shared between the district and EOC.

When the district, which is operating three sixth-grade classes at Dunbar, moves out of the building completely, a new arrangement on expenses will be made with EOC.

The board discussed hiring part-time maintenance help for Dunbar until the regular students move to the new middle school.

A letter was placed on file from the state superintendent's office which granted an extension until September 1980 on racial integration requirements. It was noted that positive steps are being taken.

The board hired Mrs. Norma Gram as a first-grade teacher and now has a part-time position open for a kindergarten teacher at Harris school. The board approved school secretaries attending a National Association of Educational Secretaries meeting at Pheasant Run near St. Charles, Ill.

Ten secretaries have asked to attend. However, one must remain to work at the board office. It was not determined who would remain.

The board approved raising mileage expense from 12 cents to 16 cents per mile for district personnel while on official district business, when the employee is driving his personal auto.

The Madison district will again participate in the Lewis and Clark Career Guidance center program. James noted the vocational information was most valuable to the students and that over 100 students benefited last year from the program. A charge of 50 cents a student was approved.

Wiener roast in park here

The September meeting of the Twilight class of Mount Zion General Baptist Church was held in Wilson Park with a wiener roast being the main order of business.

During a short business meeting presided over by Mrs. Harriet Phelps, president, plans for the upcoming October bake sale were discussed as was the church's current membership drive.

A love gift was sent to Mrs. Helen Poole, a member who is ill.

Among those attending were Mesdames Flo Monroe, Mildred Rippy, Lillie Graf, Ginny Pirle, Ollie Harmon, Cleola Graves, Ann Schubert, Bessie Phillips and guest Clayton Warren. The meeting closed with a song and a prayer by Mrs. Phelps.

HURT IN CRASH
Walter Lowell, 81, of 2425 Iowa St., entered St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 12:07 a.m. Saturday after an auto accident. He complained of pain to both arms, left ankle, head, shoulders, back. He suffered a laceration to his upper lip and a small hematoma to the right eye. He was treated and released.

Robbers break into house, take $200

A Madison man was robbed at gunpoint in his home at 210 Madison Ave. at about 3:50 a.m. Saturday. It was reportedly taking $200 in cash.

The victim, Earl Richey, told police that two men kicked in the door of his home and entered the bedroom wearing stocking masks.

The victim said one of the men held a gun to his head and demanded money. The men then ransacked dresser drawers, reportedly taking $200 in cash.

Something caused the men to become frightened and they left, leaving the gun, a Colt Trooper Mark III, behind, according to the report.

Seek donations for yule decorations in Madison

Members of the Madison Business Association (MBA) are seeking contributions for Friday decorations for Madison Avenue.

In a cooperative plan, city officials and the MBA are trying to raise $12,000 and are seeking contributions from both business and individual residents.

Miss Tillie Norberg and Jack Lee, both MBA members, are co-chairmen of the fund drive.

"I think that this really is a community project in which many citizens would like to help. Everyone I know would like to see a brightly decorated downtown area during the Christmas season, Dave Letzinger, president of MBA, said.

Residents wishing to make a contribution may donate to Miss Norberg, Lee or Letzinger in person or checks may be mailed to MBA, P.O. Box C, Madison, Ill., 62240.

Checks should be made out to MBA Christmas Decorations.

Letzinger noted that any size donation from $1 to $1,000 is welcome. Samples of the types of decoration are on display at the Madison city hall.

Man welding chainsaw is shot at tavern door

One man was shot and another injured during a disturbance at 9 a.m. Saturday at Patti's Lounge, 1400 Madison Ave., Madison, which involved a chain saw. Officers were called to the lounge on a report of a fight. According to official reports, three men entered the establishment and began harassing customers.

A fight ensued involving the three and several patrons near the pool table. Pool balls were thrown, striking several customers and Lawrence Baker, 51, of 2205 Washington Ave., police alleged.

Tavern owner James Riskovsky Sr. and several customers forced three troublemakers to leave and called police.

Officers arrived in time to observe a 26-year-old Madison man cutting through the tavern door with a chain saw, it was alleged. He cut through the plexiglass window of the dor and was about to enter, according to police.

The man with the chain saw then was shot with a gun fired from inside the tavern, and he ran outside and entered a nearby truck, officers said. A man from inside the tavern then approached and allegedly shot the man at the window. The man with the gun was not arrested, it was related. The man with the gun was not arrested, it was related.

Senior day at the park

Under the protection of the ice rink pavilion at Wilson Park, senior citizens enjoyed a day of fun and food Tuesday as they gathered for the Granite City Park District's Senior Citizens Day.

An old fashioned country style picnic was the theme for the day's activities, and those who attended had lots of things to do.

The event, organized by the park district, Granite City Township and senior citizens groups, offered a picnic supper and dancing along with the more sedentary bingo and card games.

The weather was pleasant as the seniors gathered, calling to friends whom some see only during such events. There was lots of news to exchange, trips to talk about, and pictures of new family additions to show off.

Sometime after lunch, games were available for those who wished to play. Popcorn and soft drinks sat on the tables and the seniors passed the afternoon with the games and good friends.

The bingo players were mostly folks who play the game regularly at various gatherings of senior citizens and in local churches and at the American Legion.

One lady commented that her luck that day wasn't the best, but she said she loved the game and was having a fine time.

Later in the day, at about 4:30, the picnic supper was served. Still later, dancing began, with the day's activities ending at 10 p.m.

According to the participants, it was a memorable picnic, with much fun enjoyed by all.

Vampire visit

Norma Mendoza, director, assisted by Connie Becerra, is rehearsing the cast of the upcoming East Bank Players production of "Dracula Baby."

The show, a musical comedy, loosely based on the novel by Bram Stoker, takes place in Transylvania and England, and offers a cast of newcomers as well as longtime thespians of East Bank.

Dan McGee and John Payne will recreate their roles as Count Dracula and his loony adversary, Renfield, just as they did four years ago when the show was first presented on the East Bank stage.

Gene Cassy will portray Dr. Seward, a shrewd "shrink" who runs a sanitarium. Stanley Coleman is featured as Van Helsing, the German professor who is an expert on vampires.

Lucy, a romantic girl who is entranced by Count Dracula, is played by a newcomer to East Bank, Becky Podessa, with Tim Lipe cast as Arthur, Lucy's naive fiancé.

Ann Scott, a regular of East Bank, portrays the chief nurse at the sanitarium who has a strange taste in men.

Seen as Sylvia, a liberated with who has weird supernatural powers, is Dorothy Newhart. Although new to East Bank's stage, she has performed frequently on stages in California and Florida.

Frank, a monster who resembles Frankenstein, is played by Eric Scott.

In addition to the cast, there is a chorus of monsters and barmaids consisting of Shelly Fruth, Susan Welty, Karen Fuller, Ron Allsup, Kathy Broderick, Paula B a l l e w, G a y e Bergschneider, Barb Wild, Leslie Chaney, Debbie Brantfield and Chris Sowery.

Because of the extended period of performances, the show also features understudies who will relieve the major cast by performing a minimum of four performances, dates of which will be announced later.

Davis Allsup, who recently joined East Bank as sound and light technician, will move in front of the panel to portray Dr. Seward; Toni Hoskins, also new to East Bank, will play the chief nurse; Jeanne Fuller, Lucy, Steve Phelps, Arthur, Tony Becerra, Van Helsing, and Ruth Bradley, Sylvia.

Cathy Cassy, regularly seen in East Bank productions, will be musical director for the show. Shelly Fruth and Jeanne Fuller will choreograph the dance numbers.

Performances will be in the newly-built "theater in the attic," better known as Elliott's Three Mile House Restaurant, operated by Doug and Bev Elliott and located three miles out of Edwardsville on Route 159. Performances will begin Oct. 12 and run every Friday and Saturday (except for Thanksgiving week) through Dec. 1.

In keeping with the holiday coming up in October, the special performances will be given: Sunday, Oct. 28, Tuesday, Oct. 30, and Wednesday Halloween night, Oct. 31. The curtain rises at 8:15 p.m.

Prices are $4.50 for the show only, or $9.50 for dinner and the show.

"Dracula Baby promises to be a hit," according to Publicity Chairman Ruth Bradley, "Come fly with us through the catacombs of Transylvania in a hilarious search for Dracula's coffin. Call now for reservations to hold the performance of your choice: Gene Cassy, Granite City, 451-1540, or Three Mile House, Edwardsville, 656-4116."

CHRISTINE GREEN.

She has been promoted to executive secretary to the vice president of Municipal Tool and Machinery Company, St. Louis-based sales specialists in new and used metalworking equipment. An added responsibility accepted by Mrs. Green is to coordinate the information flow between MTM's home office and its newly established branch office in Little Rock, Ark. A secretary with Municipal Tool since 1974, she has two children and is a lifelong Granite City resident.

Uneven ripening of grapes

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser

Failure of grapes to ripen properly has been a serious problem for some gardeners in 1978 and 1979. Uneven ripening of grapes, especially the Concord variety, may be due to weed spray drift, disease infections, and weather are the most likely causes.

The symptoms are green, red and blue grapes in the same cluster and uneven ripening of clusters.

When caused by weed spray drift, it is usually some form of 2,4-D which may have been used to kill dandelions or other broad leaved weeds. If this is the cause, crinkled, distorted leaves on new shoots will be visible.

If the leaves are normal in shape but have yellow, tan, or black discoloration over part or all the surface, disease is the problem. Humid, hot weather in late July and early August favored disease infection this year, and many grapes will not ripen because of this.

They need healthy leaves for proper maturation. A spray program for disease control could have prevented the infection, so plan one next year.

Another possible cause of uneven ripening is overproduction combined with low plant vigor.

When more fruit is produced than the plant can properly mature, the fruits will be off-color with flavor and maturity. Proper balanced pruning and good culture should prevent this in the future.

2nd charge filed against youth

Robert F. Moulden, 18, of 1940 Joy Ave., arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct Thursday morning, was charged with criminal damage to property at 12:30 p.m., following an incident at Granite City police headquarters.

Moulden allegedly was creating a disturbance at a home in the 3200 block of Edgewood Avenue when taken into custody initially. About 12:30 p.m., officers heard a loud banging noise coming from the holding cell.

According to the report, they found Moulden had torn a metal bunk from the cell wall and was banging it on the floor. A mirror also had been pulled from the wall. Moulden was taken to a hospital for examination at 1:40 p.m. Thursday.

Hits parked car

Robin Clatts, 26, of 2410 Edison Ave., was injured when his car, southbound in the 2400 block of Washington Avenue, struck the parked car of Barbara Koisher, 2419 Washington Ave., last week. Clatts was issued a ticket alleging careless driving. He went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated for a cut to his chin, a bruise to his left arm and a bump to his head. X-rays were taken and he was released.

Area senior citizens, 55 years or older, are being encouraged to attend this program of muscle toning, breathing, circulation, and flexibility maintenance. A fitness program is scheduled to complement other senior citizen programs, including a Friday morning swim program from 9 to 10 a.m. beginning Sept. 14.

The YMCA fitness plan is $4 per month for non-"Y" members and free to "Y" members. The fitness program is partially funded through a grant from the Area Agency on Aging.

Biofeedback — new headache remedy?

A psychology student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville — who believes headache sufferers can find relief through biofeedback, is looking for volunteers to help him find out why.

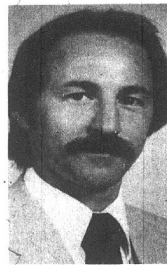

Peter Florian, a graduate student working under Prof. Kenneth Kleinman of the department of psychology, has designed the headache experiment as part of his master's thesis. To complete the work, he needs 20 tension headache volunteers willing to meet with him 25 minutes a week for six weeks.

Florian said approximately 10 percent of the people in the general population suffer from tension headaches, believed to be caused by "sustained contraction of head and neck muscles in response to stress."

In the 1950s, researchers began training people to relax the muscles, using biofeedback, and found a 30-90 percent improvement in the headaches.

Florian said it is not clear how muscle training produces the results, usually working with the muscles of the forehead, but he would like to find out. In the process, the volunteers may find a way to get permanent relief-free.

To take part in the test, headache sufferers must first learn to control body muscles by using a machine which measures the amount of tension in a muscle. By watching the dials, volunteers will be able to relax or contract the muscles at will, Florian said.

In the past, subjects have learned to control the opening and closing of the pupil of the eye, a function scientists once thought was totally automatic.

Once the muscle control is established, the volunteers will meet once a week for a 25-minute feedback session with Florian. They will be required to keep a daily record of their headaches, noting possible changes in severity.

Florian has used biofeedback with success as a consultant with a Clayton firm specializing in the method. It has been used for relaxation in treatment of phobias, hypertension, seizures and muscle rehabilitation after injury or loss of nerve connections.

"It is even possible to teach a person to lie on a polygraph test," he said, "but I am not suggesting that."

For additional information or to volunteer for the experiment, persons may contact the department of psychology at SIUE at 692-2202. Florian said the sessions offer a "good chance the tension headache will improve."

GARDEN SETTING. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Edward Gray of Tallahassee, Fla., following their wedding in the Marriage Garden at MacIay Gardens there. The bride is the former Janet Lee Davinroy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Davinroy, 1229 Klein St., Venice.

Miss Janet Davinroy married in Florida

On the fieldstone terraced steps of the Marriage Garden in Tallahassee, Fla., Janet Lee Davinroy and Glen Edward Gray pledged their wedding vows in a double ring ceremony Aug. 18.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Davinroy, 1229 Klein St., Venice.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. Carleton Gray of Tallahassee.

An abundance of summer blossoms, bordering well manicured lawns and stone terraces, created the setting for the six o'clock evening ceremony, performed by the Rev. Knox Bromby.

The Marriage Garden area is part of the formal MacIay Gardens in Tallahassee.

The former Miss Davinroy was escorted along a herbiboned aisle by her father.

She chose an off-white wedding gown of qiana designed with a blouson top. The alencon lace yoke, underscored with a narrow ruffle, was made with a round neckline and the lacework extended into brief cap sleeves. Soft folds of qiana fashioned the long skirt.

On her hair she wore a headpiece of delicate white roses, daisies, baby's breath and ivy, and she carried a slender bouquet of three yellow roses, baby's breath and ivy, tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Albert (Mary) Galliano of Tallahassee, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Mrs. Tom (Gail) La Murliga, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid.

Both selected full length gowns of emerald green qiana, complemented with hip length jackets made with cap sleeves.

Flowers were entwined in their hair and each held a white basket of fresh garden blooms.

Mr. Gray chose Tom Roche as his best man and William Rayner as groomsman. Both are from Tallahassee.

Douglas Davinroy and Benjamin Slover, nephews of the bride, served as ring bearers.

A special reading was delivered by Eric Slover, also the bride's nephew.

Wedding music, provided by JoAnn Cox, guitarist, and Kathy Latignere, soloist, included "I Love You Just the Way You Are," "The Wedding Song" and "You Are So Beautiful."

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Davinroy chose a long gown of teal blue qiana, accented by an off-white loose jacket, hip length. Her corsage was of white roses.

The bridegroom's mother appeared in a teal blue and white flowered sheer frock. She also wore a corsage of white roses.

Immediately following the service, guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception at Berkshire Manor in Tallahassee.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. R. Carlton Gray at their home.

After a wedding trip to St. George's Island, off the Florida coast, the couple is now at home in Tallahassee.

The former Miss Davinroy received her bachelor of science degree from Florida State University. She is a member of Omicron Nu and the American Home Economists Association and is employed as manager with the McDonald Co. in Tallahassee.

Her husband earned his master of science degree at Florida State University. He is a member of Phi Mu Epsilon and is employed in the Math Department at Tallahassee Community College.

Both are members of the Florida State Sailing Club. Local residents attending the wedding beside the bride's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davinroy, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, and children, Douglas and Susan, and Mrs. Philip (Linda) Slover, the bride's sister, and sons, Eric and Benjamin.

Downtrend in poultry prices

Poultry prices have hit the skids and may continue dropping this fall, according to a poultry specialist.

Bill L. Goodman, professor of animal industries in the SIUC School of Agriculture, said poultry prices to the producer have dropped more than 10 cents a pound since May.

"There is a surplus of broiler production, and competition from pork is increasing as the price of pork also drops," he said.

Goodman believes it is likely that turkey prices this fall will be up to 25 percent lower than last year, and that these lower prices are likely to be reflected at the retail counter.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said producer turkey prices fell from 73 cents per pound in January to 65 cents in August.

The department also noted that poultry prices were at 49 cents per pound in May, but fell to 43 cents a pound in July. Goodman said prices were at about 38 cents at the end of August.

The USDA predicted poultry prices could dip as low as 35 cents a pound at the processor, but Goodman said he expected more strength in the prices. However, the low prices mean some producers will be losing money, he added.

The government prediction for eggs this fall is for prices to be about 68 cents per dozen, or about 11 cents higher than a year ago.

Goodman said there is no significant broiler production in Illinois, but there are about six million egg layers in the state. They produce about 45 percent of Illinois' demand for eggs.

Records set by telethon

The 14th annual Jerry Lewis Day telethon Against Muscular Dystrophy raised a record-breaking total of $730,209, it was announced by Stan Musial, honorary chairman, and John K. Wallace Jr., chairman of the telethon committee. Last year, $718,173 was raised in the St. Louis Metropolitan area.

In the nationwide campaign, with over 200 television stations participating, more than $30 million was pledged on the telethon. In 1978, a record $29 million was contributed to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

In the first Jerry Lewis fund-raising telethon held in 1966, a little over $1 million was raised with only one television station participating.

The 19-hour telethon was shown locally over Channel 5 from the ballroom of the Musial-Pavilion Hotel and from Northwest Plaza, starting at 10:30 p.m. on Sept. 2 and continuing until 5:30 p.m. on Labor Day.

More than 1,000 people participated in this year's area telethon as volunteer workers—manning phones, making check presentations in behalf of their organizations, companies or neighborhoods for funds raised at benefits; or collecting money at "fish-bowl" locations throughout the community.

Volunteers included civic officials, sports personalities, celebrities, members of MDA's Mississippi Valley Chapter, patients and their families, and telethon committee members. Food was donated for the volunteers during the interrupted telethon. In addition to the two major locations, 13 places across the state were set up in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

In addition to national chairman Jerry Lewis and anchorman Ed McMahon, the TV spectacular featured 100 top entertainers from the film, radio, TV and musical world. The marathon was carried coast-to-coast and was seen in Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico.

The funds raised support MDA's research and patient care programs.

MDA maintains 216 clinics in the U.S., including Puerto Rico and Guam, that provide services free to patients afflicted by any of the 36 neuromuscular disorders.

It sponsors research seeking the causes of and cures for muscle disease at the University's School of Medicine, and through more than 550 individual research projects.

Subjects to be covered are bus outreach, children's worship services, children and conversion, children after conversion, how to support a bus ministry, and related subjects.

The first session begins with registration at 6 p.m. Friday. The Saturday session will convene with a Continental breakfast at 7:45 a.m. and close at 12:20 p.m.

The conference is principally for those who work in a bus ministry or children's worship, as well as those interested in beginning a ministry of this nature. It is being sponsored by the churches of the Madison County Baptist Association, 620 Engineer Road, Mitchell.

Area livestock firm suspended

Huber Livestock, Inc., National Stockyards, National City, Ill., has been suspended by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and ordered to stop violating payment requirements of the Packers and Stockyards (P&S) Act.

The firm formerly bought and sold livestock in Southern Illinois. It is now out of business.

USDA Administrative Law Judge Dorothea A. Baker suspended the firm for 30 days, beginning Sept. 6. And until it shows it is financially solvent, she also ordered the firm and its owner-operator, Ken Huber, to stop.

—Issuing insufficient funds checks or drafts to pay for livestock purchased; and —Failing to pay, when due, the full price for livestock purchased.

The cease and desist order was issued to insure future compliance with the P&S Act by the firm and Huber.

For the protection of sellers, livestock dealers are required under the Act to maintain a solvent financial condition and to pay promptly for livestock purchased, unless credit has been arranged in advance.

The P&S Act is a fair trade practices law administered by the packers and stockyards program of the department's Agricultural Marketing Service. It seeks to promote fair competition in the marketing of livestock, poultry and meat.

45-day jail term ordered

Harold C. Garrigus, 38, of 1306 Kirkpatrick Homes, was sentenced to serve 45 days in the Madison County Jail and Rodger C. Storkson, 46, O'Fallon, Mo., was charged with disorderly conduct after an incident in the 206 block of Wilson Park Lane last week.

A father signed a disorderly conduct complaint against Storkson alleging he attempted to lure three children into a car in that block. The children told police they refused to get in the car and ran into their house. Storkson then allegedly walked to the house, pecked in the windows and door, pounded on the door and asked the children to open it.

The men were driving away when a police car arrived and Garrigus, the driver, asked police if there was a 700 block of Wilson Park Lane and then drove away when told there was not, police reported.

The officer who had spoken to Garrigus turned his squad car around and stopped the car at St. Paul and Indiana avenues. A computer check alleged Garrigus' driver's license had been revoked and a warrant was on file on a previous arrest for driving on a revoked license and leaving the scene of an accident.

Garrigus pleaded guilty to the charges and was sentenced by Associate Judge A.A. Mateosian.

ASSAULT CHARGED

Kathleen S. Polette, 21, of 2916 Oregon Ave., was arrested last week and was charged with aggravated assault. She allegedly displayed a handgun and threatened Pamela Brown of the 2600 block of East 28th Street at 29th and State streets Aug. 30. Miss Polette was released on $300 cash bond.

Local hearing on Title XX aid to families in need

The State of Illinois Title XX Citizens' Advisory Council is sponsoring six public hearings during September to obtain input on the Illinois Title XX program, including a hearing Tuesday, Sept. 25, at the Edwardsville Holiday Inn sponsored by the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Title XX provides for social services to help eligible Illinois residents become more self-sufficient or self-supporting.

The Illinois Department of Public Aid, the designated state agency responsible for administration of Title XX, will allocate $271 million for 33 separate social services during the current program year of July 1, 1979, to July 1, 1980.

Title XX permits the state to design its own program of services within broad federal guidelines according to the particular needs of its population.

Examples of the types of social services provided through Title XX include day training for special needs, chore and housekeeping services, family planning, health and financial management, social, legal and rehabilitative services, transitional placement, and transportation.

Title XX social services are available to persons receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Supplemental Security Income (SSI), and State Supplemental Payments (SSP) to the aged, blind, and disabled.

A provision of the plan makes services available to other individuals with limited income.

Fees may be charged, depending on family income, for such services as adoption, day care for children, foster care, services to unmarried parents, homemakers, and short-term evaluation.

Information, referral and protective services for children and adults are available to the general public without consideration of family income.

Public input from the statewide hearings will be used in developing the 1980-81 fiscal year budget and Comprehensive Annual Services Plan (CASP).

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allen Bertrand, who were married at the First Baptist Church in Mitchell. The bride is the former Robin Marie Harnetiaux, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Harnetiaux, 77 Maurene Court.

Robin Harnetiaux and Edward Bertrand wed

Miss Robin Marie Harnetiaux became the bride of Edward Allen Bertrand in a six o'clock evening ceremony June 2 at the First Baptist Church in Mitchell.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Harnetiaux, 77 Maurene Court. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Humley Bertrand, 2523 Grand Ave.

The Rev. W. J. Richardson officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar holding hurricane globes, adorned with multi-colored flowers and baby breath.

Organist Judy Barnes accompanied the soloist, Wilma Webb, who sang "Lady My Sweet Lady," "Morning Has Broken" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride chose a wedding gown of tulle and organza, fashioned in empire style with a high neckline, banded with Venice lace, and an embroidered yoke of lace and pearls.

The bishop sleeves were applied with Venice motifs and the full skirt, terminating in a deep lace flounce at the hemline, was enhanced with an attached chapel train bordered with a matching flounce.

She wore a fingertip veil secured to a cap of Venice lace, and her flowers were white silk carnations, blue rosebuds, lily of the valley and trailing ivy, accented with tiny white butterflies and baby breath, arranged in a colonial bouquet.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Shannon Elmore, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Phyllis Harnetiaux, also her sister, Lynn Fuhrman and Chris Bertrand, sister of the groom.

The attendants chose identical gowns of blue dotted swiss, trimmed with white rosettes and designed with high waists and brief caplets.

They wore wide-brim dotted swiss hats with rosette lace accents and each carried a colonial bouquet of blue silk miniature carnations, orange blossoms, forget-me-nots and dried flowers.

The groom selected his brother, Kenneth Bertrand, as best man. His groomsmen were Timmy Creek, a cousin, and Dale Portell and Mike Schwallier.

Larry Harnetiaux, the bride's brother, and Jim Aubuchon were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Harnetiaux appeared in a floor-length pink knit gown with a sheer jacket. Her flowers were miniature pink rosebuds and baby breath.

The groom's mother chose a long gown in brown, patterned in orange and yellow. She wore a corsage of wild roses in an apricot shade with daisies and forget-me-nots.

Jenny Winters distributed rice packets. She wore a blue and white dotted swiss frock and a wrist corsage of white rosebuds.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the church fellowship hall and the reception was held at the same location.

Servers were Connie Winters and Faye Burton. Mrs. Robin Clark was in charge of the guest book.

The former Miss Harnetiaux is employed at the Granite City Bank and attends Belleville Area College on a part-time basis. Her husband is a machinist at Emerson Electric, St. Louis.

After a wedding trip to the Missouri Ozarks, the couple is now at home in Granite City.

YOU CAN BANK on It!

ALLEN JESSEE
Executive Vice President
Granite City Bank

Finding something good about inflation is almost as difficult as finding a gas "war" at a local service station.

However, there are a few good things to look long enough. One of the elusive positives may well be the interest on a bank loan.

For purposes of illustration, assume you have a loan with an interest rate of twelve percent. You have immediate use of all the loan proceeds. What you buy is purchased at today's prices. Now let's further assume that you pay off the entire loan and interest one year later. Assumption number three will be that inflation is an even 10 percent. You are paying the loan and interest with money that is worth ten percent less than it was when you received it. The difference between the interest rate and the inflation rate can be considered true interest. In this case, it would be two percent.

United Way, Homestead Day, Junior Miss weekend

This weekend will be one of the most active in memory, and many hundreds of Quad-Cities are looking forward to it. As the initial event, the Tri-Cities Area United Way fall campaign kickoff dinner will be held at 7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 14, at the Granite City Township Building auditorium. Illinois AFL-CIO President Robert Gibson will be master of ceremonies and Congressman Melvin Price will be the guest speaker. The UW president is Paul J. Costello and the general campaign chairman is George J. Knecht.

Homestead Day will take place from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday in downtown Granite City, with arts and crafts booths featured around the circumference of Quincy Park, 20th Street at Delmar and Nidringhaus avenues. Ethnic food, entertainment, games and a children's hayride will be among the highlights. Nineteenth Street is to be blocked off from State Street to Cleveland Boulevard, as will Nidringhaus Avenue from Delmar to Edison Avenue.

And the Granite City Junior Miss for 1980 will be chosen in a pageant starting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium at Granite City High School South. More than a dozen young ladies will participate in the competition.

It cannot miss being an eventful and highly interesting weekend. Such a busy schedule is testimony to the wide diversity and constructive nature of life in this community.

Court wrong in minimizing the crime of vote fraud

The Fifth District Appellate Court based at Mount Vernon appears to have made a serious mistake in its decision last week to eliminate a two-year prison sentence ordered by a St. Clair County circuit judge. The case involves the conviction of an East St. Louis woman for casting a vote in someone else's name. Perhaps the length of the term should have been reduced, but to set it aside entirely conveys the message that such a crime really isn't very important.

In a democracy, which depends on majority public rule as determined through voting, it is essential that the election process be defended and strengthened, not weakened by judges winking at fraud.

Trial starting today will decide fate of new lock, dam

The great day has finally arrived. The trial of a lawsuit that has been hanging over the Alton lock-and-dam replacement work is starting today in Washington, D.C. Justice delayed is justice denied. Both proponents and opponents of the project should rejoice that the case finally is to be heard.

Railroads and environmentalists who are fighting the half-billion dollar construction task see it as injurious to economically and ecologically. They allege that it is a stepping stone toward deepening the Mississippi River channel from nine to 12 feet, which they believe would be harmful. And they say erecting a new lock and dam 26 miles downstream from the present facilities would encourage added shipping and add to congestion at Locks 20, 21 and 22.

The suit was filed more than five years ago by the Walton League, Sierra Club and 21 Western railroads. They challenge the sufficiency of the Army Engineer Corps' environmental impact statement.

American Waterways Operators President James B. Potter Jr. says, "Transportation in the Midwest is at a crisis stage, abetted by the deteriorating Alton facility which is responsible for up to four-day backups in movement of barge traffic carrying vitally needed energy, grain and other commodities up and down the river."

"On Aug. 12, there were 54 towboats pushing 635 barges, backed up and waiting to lock through. President Jimmy Carter accepted the reality of the crisis at Alton and spoke to congressmen about the backlog on the morning of Aug. 24, telling them he supports the construction."

"Congress has expressed its will; the president has expressed his will; the authorization is now law. Plaintiffs and defendants deserve a day in court to settle what is a lawsuit that has been hanging over the Alton lock-and-dam replacement work is starting today in Washington, D.C.

In their petition asking that the trial be started, the Justice Department and the Association for the Improvement of the Mississippi River claim that "four events that have radically altered the actual and legal foundations of this suit since its inception."

"1. In 1976, the Corps withdrew the challenged two-lock proposal, prompting the court to dissolve its preliminary injunction."

"2. The Corps developed a proposal for a more limited facility, consisting of only a single 1,200-foot lock. This project, while replacing Locks and Dam 26 with a new and safer structure, will only increase salvage from about 73 million tons annually to 86 million tons, enough to eliminate existing and near-term traffic delays."

"3. The Corps prepared and, in July 1976, submitted to Congress a new environmental impact statement covering the impact of a single-lock facility."

"4. Congress, after giving full consideration to the plaintiffs' position, enacted into law PL 95-502, authorizing construction of the single-lock replacement facility, while at the same time prohibiting any further upstream expansion until a systematic 'master plan' has been prepared by a special commission and approved by Congress."

Whether the mammoth new structure will be built hinges directly on the court deliberations starting today. All can look forward to a fair and speedy trial balancing the competitive, environmental, economic and common sense aspects of the complex issue.

State investing $2 million here

State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino has announced a sharp increase in the state's interest in the Community Service Program of state deposits, with more than $600 million being allocated to 919 banks around the state, including $1 million in the First Granite City National Bank.

$200,000 Granite City Bank, $200,000 First National Bank in Madison, $120,000 American Heritage Bank and $100,000 Colonial Bank.

Each September this program is renewed by allowing competing banks to submit bids for one-year time deposits of state funds.

Because of the availability of more state funds, Cosentino was able to obtain 10.5 percent more funds than the $402 million of a year ago, and 180 banks requested the funds.

The objective of the program is to recognize community service lending practices by the banks.

After banks submit an interest bid, they list their loan activity for the past year in such areas as home mortgages, home improvements, student loans, small business loans, loans to community development organizations and other loans beneficial to communities.

Computers apply a weighting schedule to the applicant's loan categories and then add this to the bank's interest bid to determine the amount of deposit to be made by the treasurer.

"This year's community service program of deposits will earn the state treasury a record $56.3 million in interest while also stimulating the economy of the state. We are very pleased with the results of this year's allocation," Cosentino said.

He also said that the Federal Reserve Board's decision to raise interest rates enabled his office to turn rates as high as 10.5 percent recently on overnight deposits of state funds.

The past fiscal year saw the treasurer's office earn $140,550,057 on idle funds for the entire year, a record amount for the state.

South kickers split openers

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record
VIANNEY — The kickers of South duplicated last year's 2-1 loss here, at Vianney High School in St. Louis County Saturday night. Unfortunately for the Warriors, the game wasn't the only thing they lost.

David Fernandez, a two year letterman and vital member of the state championship team for the past two years, was injured in this game.

Fernandez, a junior at South, apparently twisted and injured his right knee. He was taken to St. John's Hospital while the game proceeded. Fernandez is to see Dr. Stan London today. In the meantime he is wearing a brace and using crutches. Fernandez originally injured the same leg while in Colorado for the National Sports Festival camp.

Over the weekend, Coach Gene Baker and his squad won one, tied one, and lost one in that order. On Friday afternoon, South hosted the Tigers from Edwardsville and came away with a 4-0 win.

Scoring for South in that game were: Craig Kessler with an assist by Fernandez, Fernandez from Randy DeRousse, Fernandez from Lloyd Sharp, and Fernandez from a penalty kick. All the goals occurred in the second half.

Saturday morning, the Warriors hosted the Indians from New Trier East. New Trier, a strong Northern Illinois team played the Warriors to a 1-1 draw.

Prom that game, another Warrior injury emerged. Senior Jeff Tinsley went up with Dick Hoskins of New Trier for a head ball. Both missed the ball and Tinsley's forehead struck Hoskins'. Tinsley was taken to the hospital where seven stitches were placed above his eye. He did, however, compete in the Vianney game and is a tentative starter for Tuesday's game against Granite North.

South captured a 1-0 lead in the game with Indians on a goal by Jack Burnett from a Fernandez penalty kick only 42 seconds into the game. But when Tinsley left the field, South lost some of their intensity. New Trier took advantage and scored to tie the game 1-1 with 43 minutes to play.

Several shots were taken by South, but all were in vain as the game ended in a tie.

QUARTERBACK KEEPER gone awry. South's quarterback Blake "Hondo" Ambuehl tries his best to elude the grasp of a Belleville East tackler as he is approached from the rear by East's Chris Johns. Despite Ambuehl's efforts he was brought down and his team lost 35-21.

North-South time

GRANITE CITY — Never mind that only a weekend of the season has been completed.

Never mind that by now this cross-town rivalry business has been going over many times.

This time its soccer, and when its soccer, and Granite City schools are involved its worth the price of admission.

Thanks to the formation of the Gateway East Conference and the fact that both Granite City schools are members, North and South will play each other in two regular season games this year instead of the usual one.

The rubber game, if needed, should come around the end of October.

The first of this series is scheduled for tomorrow at South at 8 p.m.

The rematch won't be played until Oct. 4, when North is the host.

QCND humbles Trojans

QUINCY — The Madison football Trojans knew one thing for certain when it left for Quincy and their game against Quincy Notre Dame Friday — they knew not much about the Trojans was for certain.

What the Trojans found out in Quincy, they'd probably just as well like to forget.

The Raiders found all the Trojans weaknesses, and a few more downing Madison, 61-8.

Madison's head coach Charlie Steptoe, in his first game leading the Trojans, knew he brought a young and untested team to Quincy.

The Raiders brought a halfback Tom Henkemper with them, and that was about enough.

Henkemper scored four of the Raider's touchdowns, including the first from the opening play from scrimmage. Henkemper ran 73 yards of the play. In the game, he rushed for 133 total yards.

That was about half of Quincy's team total of 306 rushing yards. In addition Quincy passed for 53 yards and got another 130 yards via penalties.

East runs past South

BELLEVILLE — Like most season-opening games, Granite City South's football opener against Belleville East Friday night was filled with the kind of rah-rah emotion that sets high school football apart from other mutations of the sport.

East's Lancers won the game 35-21, running through, around, and over South's defense.

But, as the score indicates, South did some running of its own. The difference may have been the emotions.

Planting the option play, the Lancers' halfback Paul Bassler and quarterback Jeff Burkett pitched, kept, and slanted their way through the Warrior's defense.

"We couldn't stop the option," Stan Wojcik South's not pleased coach said after he had witnessed the Bassler-Burkett tandem.

"They would set up the reverse with it and then (Continued on Page 18) pointed commentary after the game.

"These big returns killed us," Wojcik said. "Whoever was covering the side they made those returns on won't be there next week, you can count on that. Some of the people on the special teams don't know what they're doing. Some changes will be made, believe me."

One of those long returns set up a crucial Lancer touchdown. After South had tied the score at 14 with just 1:15 left in the half, East's Kevin Tyra return the ensuing kick-off to East's 35-yard line. Only a good open-field tackle by South's Tim Phelps prevented even better field position.

On the final play from scrimmage after the return, East's Terry Mallin went 25 yards. Three plays later, facing a fourth-and-two situation, Todd Bond carried the ball to the six-yard line. Burkett then tossed a six-yard pass to Chris Castiller (Continued on Page 19)

North soccer on good foot

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
CASEVILLE — Granite City North's soccer Steelers faced a wide range of competition in its first week of the season. The results were satisfying.

Friday the Steelers hosted New Trier East, a northern Illinois soccer power. The Steelers in the first game of the 1979 season, recorded a 2-1 win.

Then Saturday, the Steelers faced a young inexperienced Althoff team in Caseville, winning 5-1.

It was an auspicious beginning for what looks like another in a line of soccer powerhouses that North's coach Bob Kehoe seems to produce yearly.

But the real test for any soccer team is the post-season tournaments, and for Kehoe, the games leading up to that point serve as preparation.

"I look for the toughest competition I can find," Kehoe said. "The only thing about that is probably going to lose some games. But the won-lost record doesn't mean that much if you don't when it comes time for the seasonals."

If Kehoe faced more teams like Althoff looked Saturday his won-lost record would be as padded as the pants goalie Tracy Hickam wears.

The score doesn't really tell the whole story about the Althoff game.

Four of North's five goals in the game came in the first half. In the second half, when Kehoe cleared the reserves from the bench, North scored its fifth goal.

Althoff was the first of North's Gateway East Conference opponents. And like other schools in the conference, Althoff just can't match the level of play that a team like North presents.

"They're young and inexperienced," Kehoe said. "And that can be a problem for us. Being youngsters, they all want notoriety. When you play an inexperienced team everybody wants to be a scorer. But you have to try to avoid that and stick to your game."

North was able to do both Saturday. Not everyone, but many of the Steelers were indeed scorers. Yet North managed to stick a basic passing type of a game.

As if to serve notice about the nature of underdogs, Althoff scored the opening goal of the game with just a minute gone in the first quarter.

GRANITE CITY — The Steelers of Granite City North had a reputation to live down Friday night. And that's just what they did, as they whipped the Comanches of Cahokia 33-6 in the opening game of the 1979 football season. It was as well, the first game ever of the new Gateway East Conference.

North kicked off to open the game and from that point onward, it clearly dominated the football field. Cahokia's first set of downs set a precedent that was followed throughout most of the game—North was just not going to allow much yardage.

The Steelers received their first possession after Cahokia was forced to punt, after gaining only one yard during their short time with the ball.

A weekend's work

The opening weekend of Granite City sports was, all told, pretty successful.

Granite City North teams led the way with a clean sweep in both football and soccer.

The Steeler soccer team won two games over the weekend—Friday, a 2-1 win over New Trier East and Saturday a 5-1 win over Althoff.

The Steeler football team, showing why last year is already forgotten, surprised many with its 33-6 win over Cahokia.

Granite City South also began its fall sports but didn't dominate its opposition as North did.

The football Warriors lost to Belleville East, Friday, 35-21, but showed a potent offense.

The soccer Warriors beat Edwardsville 4-0 Friday, but tied New Trier East 1-1 Saturday afternoon, and lost to Vianny, 2-1 Saturday night.

But this is only the beginning. By season's end, there will be plenty of victories and losses to go around.

Althoff's John Rieninger sent in a shot that bounced off the goal post and past North's Jeff Sharp.

But the moment passed quickly. North's Eric Maas tied the score three minutes later when he took a pass from Mark Jones and sent in the shot.

From that point until the end of the half North's Mike Robertson saw to it that the Crusaders probably resented the fact that their school had even thought about joining the same conference as North.

With four minutes left in the first quarter, Robertson took a pass from Glen Edwards down the right side and put it in the net to the goalies right.

Two minutes later it was Robertson again. This time on an assist from Jones, who found Robertson among the pack in front of the Althoff goal.

While North struck quickly and often, the Crusaders were running an ongoing debate as to the responsibilities for coverage of the elusive Steelers.

It was odd hearing Kehoe after the game explaining about mid-game adjustments given the lopsided score.

"The field is smaller than most," Kehoe was saying. "We had to devise special methods for playing here. We teach compactness. We tell our kids to handle the ball as little as possible and to always be looking to pass the ball off to a teammate."

Playing here though you have to do just the opposite. You have to spread their defense out. You can't have them all bunched up in front of the net.

Somehow, the Steelers managed to avoid the crowd on the Althoff end of the field, although for most of the game it seemed the popular place for both the ball and the Steelers to be.

In the second quarter, North made the score 4-1 with a goal from Lee Gavlick with an assist from Edwards.

The Steelers rounded out the scoring with a fourth period goal from Robertson, his third, from out of a scramble in front of the Althoff net. The assist was made by Jones.

If Althoff presented an easy opponent, North's season opener Friday against New Trier East was a match with a difficult one.

Although North won the game 2-1 Kehoe said he was impressed by the ability New Trier displayed.

North outshot New Trier 16-14 but even that margin may be somewhat deceiving according to Kehoe.

"The stats aren't always indicative of what takes place on the field. We didn't dominate the game. Plus, their coach told me that they had four of their regulars out with injuries."

New Trier broke out on top in the game at 7:12 into the first quarter. Mike Gately took Tim Daniels pass from in close and scored.

North tied on a goal at 19:28 in second quarter. Mark Jones scored on Bob Batey's assist.

Batey scored the winner at 15:37 into the final quarter. He put home a pass from Robertson.

power team in St. Louis," said Baker. "They're so rich in soccer that they always play very competitively."

The Golden Griffins scored two goals within a minute of one another. Steve Maurer scored from Chuck Clout at the 5:53 mark and then captain Mike Auck found the net from John Sendobry at 6:31.

The shot count throughout the entire 80-minute game was low as only 16 shots were taken all game. 12 of those were in the first half.

Then Fernandez was injured. He attempted to stand on his own before injury time was called, but he only fell back to the ground. Baker led a few rescuers on the field and Fernandez was carried off and onto the bench. He remained on the bench for a few minutes before the decision was made to take him to the hospital.

Shortly after the incident, South was awarded a penalty kick for tripping inside the box. Burnett drilled to the left side of the Vianny keeper to bring South within one, 2-1.

One or two shots on goal later, the game ended and the Granite team returned home anxiously awaiting the news of teammate Fernandez.

When Fernandez was removed from the game, sophomore Rich Moore entered in his place. Moore showed talent. "Rich has played before, but this was his best game, by far," said Baker. "We're starting these sophomores."

"We've got a young team and people like Rich help us out. We're starting these sophomores."

Now that classes have begun and the athletic seasons have gotten underway, it's time for the cross-town rivalry and this year's has a little added attraction that Coach Baker feels won't affect the intensity of the rivalry as might be expected.

Last year's keeper for North, Tony Pierce, will start in goal for South, Tuesday night at 8 p.m.

"Sure it'll be a big game," said Baker, "but it won't be magnified by Pierce playing for us."

Pierce's answer to "How's it going to feel to play for South against North?" sums it all up. "It's going to feel GOOD."

misfortune, however, did not last all night. The Comanches did tally six points midway through the second quarter.

Darryl Dace broke outside and advanced the ball to within three yards of a TD for Cahokia. And Wilbur Washington drove up the middle to put six points under the "visitors" column on the scoreboard.

North retaliated with a 45-yard bomb to Mike Steen, later in the first half. The conversion attempt failed and at halftime, the now-reknown Steelers held a strong 20-6 lead.

Steen almost scored

another Steeler touchdown, but fumbled the ball near the one-yard line; Bryan McCullough fell on the ball in the end-zone and added to North's score, 27-6.

Cahokia had the ball on their own 19-yard line and Mike Jerome faded back to pass. With the ball in mid-air, Steen alertly grabbed the ball from between two receivers and a defender and ran the interception 28 yards back for a TD, 33-6.

From that point, it was much a matter of waiting for the final gun signaling North's first victory in their past 11 games.

"It was a total team effort," said Tom Wyrostek, head coach of the winning Steelers. "We played the ball real well and had a lot of backs carry the ball well."

"I'm pleased with the line, but we have a lot of things to improve on. We've got a good-sized team. We're pretty basic right now and maybe with time, we can do a few more things," concluded the smiling coach.

From last year's 6-10 team, Wyrostek has 18 let-terms returning to help do those different things. Next week, North will travel to Collinsville for a 3 p.m. game on Friday night.

over us," Steptoe said. "You have to remember that for most of our guys this was their first varsity game."

"We made beginning mistakes. They were outstanding. They did a lot of stuff faking into the line and running outside."

The Trojans finally got something on the scoreboard with 2:07 left in the game.

Robert Johnson, who replaced Danny Stern at quarterback in the fourth quarter completed a 35-yard pass to Stern for the touchdown.

A pass from a fake kick by Mark Zarr to Shannon Manson added two more points.

"We didn't generate much offense," Steptoe said. "But I was pleased by the way we were hitting. Being a young team we should be able to shake off a loss like this better than an older team."

Steptoe said the score wasn't indicative of the type of game his Trojans played.

On the positive side, Steptoe said the play of Johnson at quarterback in the fourth quarter was worth note. He completed five of his eight pass attempts for 57 yards.

The Trojans also have a pair of talented kick returners. Ed McDonald and Briggs each had returns of 37 yards.

Steptoe also took encouragement from the Trojans' fourth-quarter touchdown. "The team just didn't quit," he said. "It was good to see them come back and score that late in the game."

IHSA state tourney plans

The Illinois High School Association has announced its plans for post-season football competition.

Because of the number of teams involved, the logistics of staging a post-season tournament are mind-boggling.

But outlined here are the IHSA guidelines.

Conferences selected to serve as the hosts for Preliminary Round games by class are:

CLASS 1A: Little Eight, Lincoln Trail, Bi-County, Indian Valley West, Sangamon Valley, Meridian, Western Illinois Valley, Little Okaw Valley.

CLASS 2A: Northwestern Illinois, Mid-Northern, Blackhawk, Interstate Eight, Okaw Valley, West Central, South Central, Black Diamond.

CLASS 3A: Private School League, Little Seven, North Central (SW), Heartland, Corn Belt, Midstate, North Egypt, South Seven.

CLASS 4A: Fox Valley, Big Nine, Chicago Public 4A Red North, DuPage Valley, SICA East, North Central (NE), Mid-State Ten, Capital.

CLASS 5A: Central Suburban North, Mid-Suburban South, Chicago Public 5A Red South, Chicago Catholic, DuPage Catholic, Western Big Six, East Suburban Catholic, SICA West.

Host and visiting schools after the Preliminary Round will be determined by the following factors:

1) If both teams advancing have hosted, the bottom team in the bracket shall be the host school.

2) If both teams advancing have not hosted, the bottom team in the bracket shall be the host school.

3) If one of the teams advancing has hosted and the other has not, the team which has not hosted will be the host for that game.

4) If one of the advancing teams traveled a distance of 150 miles or more as the visiting team in a Preliminary Round game, that team will be the host team for the Quarter-Final Round game. If both teams advancing traveled 150 miles or more, the bottom team in the bracket shall be the host school.

5) In the Semifinal Round, if one of the advancing teams has hosted once and the other twice, the team having hosted once will be the host team.

6) In all rounds, including the Championship Games, the host team shall wear dark jerseys.

For the Championship Games, the team advancing from the top half of the bracket shall be the visiting team and the team advancing from the bottom half of the bracket shall be the home team.

In addition, the Executive Secretary has been granted authority by the Board of Directors to reassign the site of a Playoff game in the event unusual circumstances develop. At the same time, a site other than the designated host school's home field may be used subject to the approval of the Board of Directors.

Advance selection of Preliminary Round hosts is necessary for the following reasons:

— In order to allow potential participating schools the opportunity to gear for the complete Playoff Series, notice must be given well enough in advance to provide for a smooth administration of the 40 games on Nov. 7, in particular, and to complete the schedule in a field of 41 teams.

Stadium run still open

ST. LOUIS — The entry deadline for the Natural Light Stadium Run to be held Sunday, Sept. 30, finishing in Busch Stadium has been extended to Sept. 15.

The unique 6.2-mile run through downtown St. Louis is based on a national handicap system so that most runners should cross the finish line at about the same time.

The race begins at 11:30 a.m. on the south side of Busch Stadium on Spruce Street and ends in the second base area on the stadium's playing field.

The 6.2-mile course goes east on Spruce, north on Broadway, east on Washington, south on Wharf Street, west on Chouteau, south on Broadway, south on Seventh, east on Broadway to the Anheuser-Busch brewery, west on Pestalozzi, north on Seventh to the stadium, east on Broadway, east on Spruce to the stadium and to the finish line at the second base area.

The run will conclude right before the start of the Cardinals' final baseball game of the season against the New York Mets.

To enter, runners should send an entry form and $4 to the St. Louis Track Club, c/o race director Tom Eckelman, 7140 Waterman Ave., University City, Mo., 63130.

Each runner receives a coupon good for one free general admission ticket or one-half off the price of a reserved seat for the Cardinals' game that day, a Natural Light Stadium Run T-Shirt, running number and race instructions.

Following national handicap standards, a head start is given to runners in half-second increments depending on their age and sex. This means that a maximum handicap of 17 minutes is given to a male runner 73 years or older and a woman runner age 55 and over.

The race, expected to become an annual event, is sponsored by the Cardinals, St. Louis Track Club and Natural Light beer. Entry blanks are available at Cardinals' front offices at 250 Stadium Plaza and, at sporting goods outlets in the St. Louis area.

in the end zone. Bassler's extra point made it 21-14. Instead of a half-time tie, the Warriors found themselves down a touchdown in the locker room.

If the game contained the old turning point, this was a prime candidate. Until the last minute Lancer scoring drive, South had wheeled the Lancers driver for drive. In fact, the ease with which both teams managed to move down the field against one another was notable.

But then in the second half of the game to come up short in key situations, failing to turn Lancer mistakes into points.

On South's first possession of the second half, the Warriors at first supported. But East gave them another chance when Castiller fumbled a punt from the Warriors' Bruce Monahan.

Terry Singleton recovered the loose ball on the Belleville 33-yard line. But the next four plays produced only two yards, and a missed field goal attempt gave East the ball on the 20-yard line. The Lancers took it plays to march down the field for the touchdown. The drive culminated in a five-yard run by Bassler. A missed extra-point made the score 27-14.

The pattern was broken. South had failed to match East's drives, and the Lancers took a two-touchdown lead, which lasted until the fourth quarter.

South cut one of the touchdowns from the advantage on a 29-yard scoring drive that was set up by John Vrenick's interception of a Bassler pass.

The Warriors though, saw two of their scoring attempts end with mistakes. The first was thwarted when an illegal motion penalty combined with a personal foul for a 20-yard loss.

The second was stopped by two consecutive off-sides penalties. "Sometimes you can be too emotional," Wojcik said. "Those two off-sides in a row were just over-aggressiveness."

Six plays later, Ambuehl raced in from five yards out, and after Vrenick added the extra point, the score was 27-21.

"I think it was a case of first-game jitters," Wojcik explained. "We kept coming back one way or another, but that last big return, that really got us going."

Wojcik was discussing Belleville's last scoring drive. It wasn't the longest of the night, because it started from South's 35-yard line. Castiller returned the Warrior's kick-off following their last touchdown from the Belleville 25 for 40 yards.

The seven-play East drive culminated in a 3-yard pass from Burket.

The two-touchdown lead restored, East forced South to attempt a 14-point comeback with 5:38 remaining in the game.

The Warriors though, saw two of their scoring attempts end with mistakes. The first was thwarted when an illegal motion penalty combined with a personal foul for a 20-yard loss.

The second was stopped by two consecutive off-sides penalties. "Sometimes you can be too emotional," Wojcik said. "Those two off-sides in a row were just over-aggressiveness."
